

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Time's Alterations.

When this old cap was new,
This since two hundred years,
No malice then, we know,
But all things plenty were;
All friendship now decays Believe me, this is true,
Which was not in those days,
When this old cap was new.

Good hospitality Was cherisher then of many;
Now poor men starve and die
And are not helped by any;
For charity waxeth cold,
And love is found in few;
This was not in times of old,
When this old cap was new.

Where-ever you travel'd then,
You might meet on the way,
Brave knights and gentlemen,
Clad in their country gray,
That courteous would appear,
And kindly welcome you;
No churlish knaves then were
When this old cap was new.

Our ladies in these days,
In civil habit went,
Broad-cloth was then worth praise,
And gave the best content;
French fashions then were scorn'd Fond fancies then none knew,
Then modiste women adorn'd
When this old cap was new.

A man might then behold,
At Christmas in each hall,
Good fires to curb the cold,
And meat for great and small;
The neighbors were friendly bidden,
And all had welcome true;
The poor from the gates were not
When this old cap was new.

Ellis—Holland.

One of the prettiest home weddings of the month was celebrated in the home of the bride, No. 1019 Floyd avenue, at 6:30 P. M., October 12th, when Miss Be-sie Archer Holland, daughter of Mr. H. S.
Holland, was married to Mr. Alpheus Dabney Ellis, the Rev. E. W. Stone, of Immanuel Baptist church, officiating.

The color scheme of green and white was prettily carried out in palms and white flowers, the halls and parlors being canvased in white. The music was directed by Mr. Shepherd Webb, who played the wedding chorus from Lohengrin, as the bridal party came in. The bride entered with her brother, Mr. Russell Holland. She was beautifully gowned in white crepe de chine over taffeta, with garniture of lace and applique.
Her flowers were white moth chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Robert M. Beattie, of Boscobel, Va., sister of the bride, was matron of honor, in green crepe de chine and Princess lace. She carried maiden's hui-forns. Mr. H. F. Newhouse was best man.

The bridesmaids, Miss Florence Owen, Miss Aline Steinlein, Miss Bertha Strange, and Miss Bessie Ellis, wore charming toilets of white silk mull, and had clusters of white chrysanthemums.
Other attendants were Mr. George Seay, Mr. George Saunders, Mr. Frank Gilman and Mr. Walter Ellis.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis left last evening for a Northern tour. When they return they will have their home at No. 1019 Floyd avenue. The bride is a most attractive young lady, and member of Richmond society, and possesses an unusually sweet voice, being at the present time a member of the choir in Immanuel church. Mr. Ellis travels for C. W.
Anthrax & Sons, and has numerous Richmond friends, who are full of sincere congratulations and good wishes.

Caldwell—Johnson.

The wedding of Miss Lucille Forrest Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Johnson, to Mr. Arthur B. Caldwell, of Atlanta, Georgia, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Caldwell, of North Carolina, was celebrated at 3 o'clock Thursday, October 12th, by the Rev. M. Ashby Jones, in the home of the bride's parents, No. 247 East Franklin Street, this city.

The lower floor of the Johnson home was canvased in white and decorated in pinks. The ceremony was performed in the drawing room. Miss Maude Johnson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Mr. David Drum, of this city, the best man. The younger brother and sister of the bride, Miss Gladys and Master Wesley Johnson, were ribbon holders.

The bride, who is a great favorite among her Richmond friends, came in with her father. She left with her husband for a Southern trip. After November, first the young couple will be at home in Atlanta.

The Atlanta Journal of recent date says:
Mr. Caldwell has quite a large circle of business and social acquaintances in Atlanta, having lived here at frequent intervals for the past four years. He is at present manager of "Men of Mark" in Georgia, a volume of biographical sketches that will be brought out in the early spring.

Miss Johnson will be a distinct addition to Atlanta's social life, possessing as she does culture, beauty and a graceful wit.

MAN.

By FLORENCE EARLE COATES.

Other selections from this author, her portrait, autograph and biographical sketch, have already been printed in this series.

I WAS born as free as the silvery light That laughs in a Southern fountain; Free as the sea-far'd bird that nests
On a Scandinavian mountain;
Free as the wind that mocks at the sway
And pinioning clasp of another—Yet in the slave they scourged today I saw and knew—my brother!

Vested in purple I sat apart,
But the cord that smote him bruised me;
I closed my ears, but the sob that broke
From his savage breast accused me; No phrase of reasoning judgment just The plaint of my soul could smother,
A creature vile, abused to the dust,
I knew him still—my brother!

And the autumn day that had smiled so fair Seemed suddenly overclouded.
A gloom, more dreadful than nature owns,
My human mind enshrouded.
I thought of the power benign that made
And bound men one to the other,
And I felt in my brother's fear afraid,
And ashamed in the shame of my brother!

This series began in The Times-Dispatch Sunday, Oct. 11, 1903. One is published each day.

No. 202 East Broad Street on the evening of October 10th, when Miss M. Mattie Mulford became the bride of Dr. James R. Pharr, of Dunlop, West Virginia. The ceremony was most impressively performed by Dr. B. R. Eggleston, of the Third Presbyterian Church.

The bride was handsomely attired in a white tailor-made traveling suit, with hat and gloves to match, and carried a show of violets. She was accompanied by her sister, Miss Emily M. Mulford, as maid of honor, gownned in cream mousseline over yellow tulle, and carrying cream roses. Dr. Clarence Pharr, of Norfolk, brother of the groom, was best man.

The bridesmaids were Miss Nathalie

Curtis Simmons, of Newport News; Miss

Hattie Woodward Tillman, of Boscobel;

Miss Fannie Prayser Bradley, of Tex-bury, and Miss Carrie Tison, of Richmond. They wore white silk, with green girdles, and carried bouquets of maidenhair ferns and with tulle. The ushers were Dr. Ashton Harwood, of Binn's Hall; Mr. William Mayo, of

Charles City; Mr. Edw. H. Mulford and Mr. J. R. Jones.

The bridesmaids were beautifully decorated with palms and smilax. The young couple were accompanied to the debut by the bride's father, and left for Craig, Virginia, the former home of the groom. From there they will go to their home in Dunlop, West Virginia.

They were the recipients of many beautiful presents, including silver, cut glass and bric-a-brac. Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. G. I. Maguire and Miss Georgie H. Maguire, of Philadelphia; Mr.

and Mrs. William H. Hasbelle, of New York; Mrs. William Woodall, of Richmond; Charles City; Misses Electra and Gertrude Nance, of Roxbury; Miss Lois

Tilman, of Gloucester, and Miss Wanda

Harwood, of Binn's Hall, Va.

Gilmer—Saul.

A wedding of interest to Richmond friends, taking place last evening at 8 o'clock, was that of Miss Lila Saul, daughter of Mr. J. P. Saul, of Salem,

Va., to Mr. Howard C. Gilmer, a well-known lawyer of Pulaski City, and the son of Mr. W. K. Gilmer, of Wyndale,

Va. The ceremony was performed in the Baptist Church at Salem, the Rev. P. H.

Martin, pastor of the church, assisted by the Rev. J. Bunyan Lemon, of Manchester, N. H., an uncle of the bride, officiating and the double ring ceremony being used.

Decorations were all in white and green. The bridal party passed through two gates and beneath three arches in approaching the altar at the church.

The bride and groom were married under large decorated parasols, filled with net-als of white roses, and when they were pronounced man and wife, a string was pulled which let a shower of the petals fall over the bride and groom. Each maid held a ribbon suspended from the parasol.

The best man was Mr. Walter C. Price, of Pulaski City, and the maid of honor, Miss Margaret Gilmer, of Wyndale, Va., the sister of the groom.

The list of bridesmaids included Miss Mary Cannady, Miss Gates Moffitt and Miss Kate Garrett, of Salem; Miss Cora

Luck, of Houston, Va.; Miss Halsey

Lemon, of Callaway, Va.; Miss Nan V.

Sanders, of Clifton Forge, Va.; and Mrs.

Charles L. Bowers, of Bristol, Va.

The bride came in with her father. She wore white crepe de chine over taffeta, her veil fell from a coronet of white roses and she carried a shower of the same lovely blossoms. The maid of honor was in white tulle and the bridesmaids wore white organdy.

The groomsmen and ushers were Mr.

Charles Cowell, of Pulaski City; Mr. Gray

Gilmer, of Wyndale, Va.; Mr. John P.

Saul, Jr., of Salem, Va.; Mr. Frank C.

Wiley, of Salem, Va.; Mr. Edgar Howard, of Roanoke, Va.; Mr. De Witt V.

Lemon, of Placette, Va.; Mr. Charles

L. Bowers, of Bristol, Va.

A reception was given on the evening of October 11th, to the bridal party and old-time Virginia supper was served.

Wedding gifts, in all manner of useful and beautiful articles, were received.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilmer will spend their honeymoon in the South and be at home to friends in Pulaski City after October 25th.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Gilmer, of Wyndale, Va.; the Rev. J. W. Mitchell, of Richmond; Mrs. B. E. Price, Mrs.

John Christ and Mrs. Eliza Johnson, of Nace, Va.; and Miss Mary Duguid, of Lynchburg.

Double Wedding.

The Baltimore Sun of yesterday has a reference to a double wedding ceremony, in which Virginians are interested, which says:

Miss Marie Louise Littlepage and Mr.

Dudley P. Barnette, Jr., and Miss Rosalie

Jennings Littlepage and Mr. Edwin T.

Hobbs were married in the Christian Temple, on Fulton avenue, Wednesday, with one ceremony, by the pastor, Rev.

Peter Ahlstedt. They entered the church at the same time, one couple going up the right aisle and the other approaching the altar by the left aisle. Both brides were attired in travelling suits, and carried bunches of white chrysanthemums. Miss Lillian Hobbs, sister of Mr. Edwin T. Hobbs, played the wedding march and selections.

Immediately after the ceremony the brides were
